

Amendment to the Abstract:

Please insert the following new paragraph after the heading:

The present invention relates to a device for control of display of video frames and a method for control of display of video frames, used in digital decoders/receivers of television signal, to which the signal is drawn in an analogue form.